The Political Side of Journalism. An Erg ish writer advances the suggestion that a newspeper could at this time be established in London that would reach material. The newspapers rarely disappoint expectation in this particular.

The President's Influence With Congress After living for eight months in the same beautiful city the President and the Democratic House did not become acquainted with each other. So far from having relations of friendly familiarity, they scarce ly spoke as they passed by.

Very few of those Democrate in Congress who sought close relations with the President were well received. Most of then were given to understand that the President had no desire for intimate social relations. At the same time the impression was conveyed that the President fear-ed that social intimacy at the White House would be mirconstrued as opening the way to official influence, and that he couldn't think of. He wanted it distinctly understood that only one man was President, and he had a very clear idea who that one man was.

Whether it is or is not well for the country that the President shall have some influence with his party, is a matter about which opinions differ. If a President cannot be expected to make a success of his Administration without a powerful

It has taken several weeks of examining and cross-examining to establish the fact that the Chicago Anarchists, who were arrested and are now on trial for murdering a batch of policemen, have been

They wanted to help their fellow man, not hurt him; when they denounced the spoke in a Pickwickian sense. They assembled at the Haymarket to 'hold a moonlight picnic, and lest the moon should fail to keep her engagement according to the almanac, they had in their pockets those neat little bombs with which it was intended to give a pyrotechnic display for the benefit of the poor and the play for the benefit of the poor and the much Fourth-of-July of their own.

The fatalities which attended the premature bomb explosion grieved nobody more than the mild-mannered gentlemen where the property of the sense is ready. J. W. McCov, M. D. Wheeling, August 7. police as the bloodhounds of capital, they whose necks are now placed in jeopordy in consequence of a wretched misunder-standing. Thus, in effect, the defense rocites the history of the Haymarket affair, and the defense ought to know what it is talking about.

Notwithstanding this very clear exposition of the case the impression in Chi-cago is that it will be impossible to bring the jury to the view of the defense. Chicago is going to be greatly disappointed if ticeable change except that Michigan X is she doesn't got to see the Anarchists offered at lower prices by some holders;

All things considered, this may be as well; for men must be taught that dynamite bombs are dangerous things to handle, even with so excellent an intention as to make a spectacle for the public benefit.

A VICTORY FOR HARRIS, He has Things his Own Sweet Way in Mon-roe County-Gossip.

Epecial Correspondence of the Intelligencer.

Red Sulfitus Springs, W. V.A., August 4.—The Democrats of Monroe country met in mass convention last Saturday and nominated Col. John M. Rowan, a supporter of Snyder, for the Legislature and appointed delegates to the Congressional Convention instructed for Harris.

Convention instructed for Harris.

Ever since Synder voted against the consideration of Morrison's tariff bill a portion of the Democrats of this and adjoining counties have seemed determined to defeat his renomination and they have been shrewd in their manipulations, and Convention instructed for Harris.

have so far as this county is concerned succeeded. Mr. John W. Harris is a shrewed working attorney and has a large share of the practice in this county. It may be that our local lawyers may prefer to have Harriss off to Washington rather than here dividing fees. Be that asti may, they are working to give him the nomination for Congress. The Republicans ought to be satisfied, especially, I, what the Democrats say means anything.

The Spyder men say that if Harris gets the nomination be will get beat, and the Harris men say if Suyder gets the nomination he will get beat, and the Harris men say if Suyder gets the momination he will get beat, and the Harris men say if Suyder gets the momination he will get beat, and the Harris men say if Suyder gets the momination he will get beat, and the Harris men say if Suyder gets the somination he will get beat, and abuse each other until, like the Kilkenny cats, there seems nothing left but claws bristles and tails, but when the day of election comes they are all at the polis and vote solid. They adhere to the time-bonored principles of the party free trade, State sovereiguty, and 'To the victory the spoils belong,' and should Mr. John W. Harris get the nomination I fear we will have for the rest two years in Congress a free trader, and, so far as this district is concerned, we will have to look elsewhere for friends to the coal, inon, salt and lumber industries.

THE WATER SUPPLY,

THE WATER SUPPLY.

A Physician's Idon of a Plan to Secure Pure Water. To the Editor of the Intelligencer, Sir:-There has been quite a number of good articles in the columns of your pape on the subject of supplying this city with pure water, and as this is a very great de an enormous circulation and coin money sideratum, one more article will not over tion that a newspaper could at this time be established in London that would reach an enormous circulation and coin money for its publishers. It must be founded on the idea of no politics.

The people, he thinks, have been so surfeited with politics in all forms—parliamentary debates, election addresses, the spec case of candidates and profound lading articles, that they would gladly turn to a newspaper from which every word relating to politics should be nigidly excluded.

The English newspapers devote much more of their space to long-winded speeches and leading political articles than our American newspapers to make money, and since no inconsiderable part of its business is to give the public what it wants, it is possible that the English newspapers understand what the English poople wish to read.

Election to politics, it is often complained that they devote too much space to this topic. We are inclined to thick the criticism just, but it cannot fairly be confined to the newspapers. Americans are deeply interested in whatever relates to their public affairs, to political parties and to public men. They think politics are the public men. They think politics and talk politics, and find fault with their meyspapers when they do not tell them what they want to know about politics.

Men who cannot convesse on any other subject talk glibly on politics, and they expect their newspapers rarely disappoint expectation in this particular.

ap for drinking water. Now we reverence Mt. Wood, we honor every grave, we walk with silent and reverential awe about the last resting places of our departed friends: we do more, very much more—we drink the wastings and drainings from their cometery every day of our lives. Then the sewage from the hospital, the leakage from the vaults of the First ward, the sewage of North Wheeling, besides the surface drainage of all the northern part of this city, passes into the river just part of this city, passes into the river just above where our supply is pumped up to above where our supply is pumped up to the reservoir.

Now, the remedy for all contamination is a very simple one, and ought to have been made years ago. Let our supply be pumped from a crib at the northern extremity of the Island. We are now supplied by four pipes and the supply is taken from the immediate vicinity of the Water Works. The diameter of the four pipes now used, when thrown together, would be about forty inches. Let a large pipe, say forty-eight inches in diameter, be laid from the crib on the Island to the present works and this will furnish this city with 20,000,000 outbic feet per diem, and as we only require 5,000,000 at present, will thus meet the demands of the city for 50 years to come.

to come. • Chemical analyses demonstrate that the water at the northern point of the Island is absolutely free from organic matter, albuminoid of ammonia, &c. From that point we could be supplied with water theoretically, practically and absolutely his Administration without a powerful party at his back, then it is desirable that he shall havesome influence with the men whom his party sends to Congress.

If the President has any of this influence he has not shown it. He has been able to accomplish nothing except through his vetoes, and since these were mostly directed sgainst pension bills they will do his party infinitely more harm than good. If Mr. Cleveland were a broader man he might exert more influence over his party in and out of Congress.

All a Tibleous Dream.

It has taken soveral weeks of examining of our water taxes that would pay for the

of our water taxes that would pay for the whole improvements in five years without increasing taxation anywhere. These improvements can be placed under contract to-day for less than one hundred thousand dollars. The introduction of natural gas into our city will make a saving in running the water works of at least $8,000 annually. This alone will pay the interest on the entire investment, besides leaving a large sum annually for the discharge of the debt.

Wheeling, August 7. THE WOOL MARKET.

the Boston Advertiser's Summary of Month's Transactions.

Boston, August 8.-The Advertiser in its review of the wool market says:

The market has been less active, with smaller sales; less interest from manufacturers, of whom fewer have been in the market than for a long time, with no noeffered at lower prices by some holders; and the general tone of the market is one of average strength, when sustained more by the view of shippers and holders than by the active demand of manufacturers, who seem determined to buy from hand to mouth, in the hope, no doubt, that a tight money market may contribute with this tactic to bring about some weakness. The outlook is being much discussed. Will wool go higher? Will it go lower? Just now there is no great demand even to smatain present prices, but dealers and holders know that wool cannot be replaced, hence there is no presere to sell by giving concessions. Prices in the fally 100,000 bales short of ordinary offerings.

Wool on this side looks good property. The prospective imports are decidedly light, and it is noticeable that the imports for the month of June were very little larger than for June, 1885, or 8,687,962 pounds against 8,242,311 pounds. The imports of yarns for the month of June show cantinued increase, the total being 420,418 pounds against 310,832 for May, 1880, and 70,273 for June, 1885. If these imports could only be cut down in the future, which is not impossible, we should consider the outlook much brighter.

The cleaning, antisoptic and healing qualities of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are unequalled.
